

War in the Sword Lands

A bundled Realmz scenario by Fantasoftware

WAR IN THE SWORD LANDS

(Author: Pierre H.

The ruthless Warlord of Sharranth, last known ally of the three mysterious Overlords that were responsible for the Times of Trouble, is finally on the march to conquer the Sword Lands ... and gaining ground fast. Sparklestone has been quickly conquered, and now his mercenary army is already laying siege to Wailsrond. Will you survive this Great War (let alone win it), where brute force and treachery are the rule?

Most importantly: will you be able to derail the dark schemes of the remaining six Overlords, before they bring about the return of the god-like Mind Lords ?

Thank you for playing "War in the Sword Lands" (WiSL for short), a Realmz scenario for characters beginning at 12th level.

Before you play this scenario, I would like to point out a few things, if I may:

1-Obviously, this is a huge scenario; indeed, it includes the following: 4 regular land levels, 3 island/sea levels, 1 desert level, 1 snow level, 1 volcanic level, 1 sewer level, 6 indoors levels (castles, inns, shops, taverns, ruins, etc.), 3 underground levels (including 1 shadow elf undercity!), and 2 dungeon levels. In other words, there is a lot of fun stuff to do in this scenario, in addition to the main story; unfortunately, you will be able to do it all only if you register (although there is still a nice deal for you to explore and experience before registration is required).

2- This scenario is part 2 of a trilogy ("The Sword Lands Trilogy"); part 1, titled "Trouble in the Sword Lands", was previously released back in March 1999. Part 3, "Wrath of the Mind Lords", should be forthcoming around fall 2001.

4- Be warned that some of the battles in WiSL are very tough! You'll need to use all your skills, knowledge and forethought to overcome some of the challenges in the scenario. Never forget the popular motto of the Sword Lands: "Durn good brains and good swordarm required, or else ye need not apply".

5-To help you start, make sure to enter the trade caravan waystation just to the northeast of your beginning position. You need to buy food and waterskins (which are required, lest you suffer from dehydration and/or hunger). You may also run into one of two interesting folks. Then, go to Tanirith to see the Lord Paladine.

6-Finally, a clue book ("Sword Lands: War Journal") should be made available sometimes during Fall 2000, Spring 2001. If you have questions, feel free to visit the Discussion Agora of Psion's Sanctum Sanctorum (<http://www3.sympatico.ca/pierre.vachon/home.html>) and post them there: I answer regularly ;-)

I hope you'll enjoy WiSL!