This is my second foray into the world of Divine Scenario Making. If you played Araman's Ring and enjoyed it, hopefully you'll like this one too.

The Plot: Your village's existence is threatened. Embark on a (kinda) epic quest to save your little corner of the world from destruction.

The scenario spans 3 land levels, with a decent amount of fighting, yet also a fair bit of traveling and exploring. You can actually witness changes that you effect upon the world. I tried to match the gameplay to the plot, so it might seem a bit more 'realistic'. No ridiculously out-of-proportion rewards, or impossible battles here.

What is NOT in this scenario: new castes/races. They're too limiting, for anything but an epic adventure. I also hope to have removed nearly all of the typos. Spelling-error ridden scenarios always bug me.

If I get lots of positive feedback, I might do a sequel to it. (or if you need a hint or two.)

It is, of course, FREE. Play it, enjoy it. If you really enjoy it, e-mail me and let me know. That's the best way to get me to write more.
